

WORK SHIELD CASE STUDY

CANNABIS

2,200 EMPLOYEES | 48 LOCATIONS

▼ THE CHALLENGE

A premier cannabis brand was experiencing a notable increase in the investigations of workplace incidents. The human resources department was finding it challenging to balance its normal operations with this notable increase. The brand knew it needed assistance in the areas of prompt and consistent investigations to better understand and effectively address its toxicity.

▼ THE SOLUTION

The cannabis brand connected with the reduction in risk and the increase in the ease of Work Shield's third-party reporting platform. The balance between ensuring team members were given a voice to be heard and having technology that effectively manages report incidents was simply a no brainer. Now they can trust a seamless solution and feel confident in being able to analyze insightful data and analytics to mitigate toxicity.
